DEDICATION

We, the Senior class of 1949, dedicate this year book
to Mr. Ham and Mr. Embower, without whose help, it would not have been a success.

FOREWORD

Because of this year's outstanding Basketball team, the only team in the history of L.H.S. to win a holiday tourney, we the Class of "49" choose Basketball as the theme of this Lowellian.

SENIORS

SENIOR HISTORY

One hundred seventeen scared and curious Freshies entered Lowell High School in '45. After a delayed period of getting acquainted we chose Joe Williams as our leader; Jim Sharkey, to assist him and Jannie Randolph to keep the records and the money. Dick Norris and Ray Connor were eligible to the "L" club. Lowellian contestant winners were Jim Purkey and Jean Childress for their charm and beauty; Terry Miller and Patty Martin as the personality kids; for liveness and playing ability JoAnn Brownell and Dick Norris; Darrell Cavinder and Ann Spannan supplied the brains.

We came back in '46 more confident and sure of ourselves, this time we elected Darrell Cavinder as our commander-in-chief, with Terry Miller as his co-pilot, Jean Childress as keeper of the check book and roll caller. After various discussions we decided on blue and white as class colors. We took a few more liberties this year by giving two parties. Darrell Cavinder, Wayne Walters, Dick Norris, and Ray Connor gave their contributions to athletics. We were well represented in the clubs. Ronald Gross and Jean Childress, best looking; Jerry Little and Patty Martin, most popular; JoAnn Brownell and Dick Norris, best athletes; Ann Spannan and Darrell Cavinder most likely to succeed, were the results of the year's Lowellian contest.

Terry Miller, Bob Carroll, and Patty Martin were elected to the driving seats in '47. Junior play, Junior and Senior prom, and the selection of our Senior rings were the outstanding projects of the year. "Those Websters", was the title of the play presented by the class which was a huge success under the guidance of Miss Thompson. Magazine sales was the money making project of the year. By this time we were well represented by our boys in all athletic functions. Lowellian winners: Lucille Schutz and Gene Lehman took care of the looks and glamour department; Marjorie Leach and Bob Gross headed the category for wit and popularity; Dick Norris and JoAnn Brownell were first in the division of sports; Joan Minninger and Kenneth Childress, were chosen as firsts in scholarship and ambition.

We came back in '48, Seniors, with a determination to appropriate money for a hopeful trip. With class elections the women took over with Joan Minninger handler of the gavel, Ann Spannan trying to be helpful, and Patty Martin keeper of the money bag. We had several money making projects, among them the new idea of soup sales. Our Senior boys took the spotlight with eight on the varsity basketball team.

SENIOR PROPHECY

As feature editor on Ann Spannan's paper, "The Blabbing Bladder," we were assigned to do a story on --- The World of 1960. And so, with malice a forethought we set out for London in our new jet plane piloted by John Beckman, the scientific wonder man. John had just invented an aspirin made of flea powder for people with a lousy headache.

On the way over we looked down and saw someone in the water. Swooping down we recognized Pat Searle, who had started to swim from London to America. But she got frightened half way over and was going back. When we arrived in London we were directed to the Built More Hotel, run by our old friend Dick Dodge. He asked if we wanted a room which overlooked the Thames or the Courtyard. We asked for one which overlooked the rent. Our bags (for clothing that is) were taken by the bellboy Herbert Gerst, who had gone to England to escape all the American women, who were chasing him. Later we went down to dinner in the Buffet Room where we were greeted by the chef, Joe Williams. Joe always was good at cooking things up. When we inquired about a place of entertainment, the head waiter, Zeke Busseberg, told us to go two blocks down the street to the Dick Norris Follies, starring "Che-Che La Borger" and "Pretty Boy Art Besette" (he changed his name to Art for professional reasons) in the season's best musical. Our seats were next to Mary Hepp, one of the foremost critics of the day.

Bright and early next morning (well, next morning, anyway) we left for Paris. Ah, Paris, the city of romance, intrigue, and the new look. We were greeted by Bill Joyce, the French Premier, who took us on a tour of the shopping district. In all the store windows we saw gowns designed by Barbara Chappell and her husband Charles Eich. On one corner was a store with the sign, "Guaranteed not to slip, slide or come untied." Entering we found it to be Margie Leach's Girdle Shop. We also saw the office of Dr. Bob McKee, the Psychoanalyst who psychoanalyzes psychoanalysts. And then off for Spain, the land of the Spaniards.

Here we went to Madrid where we attended the meeting of the National Association of Bartenders, and talked with the president, Carl Matury. At this meeting they adopted a new theme song, "Mickey, Pretty Mickey." Here we also saw Margaret Lee, the political genius who is formulating a plan to rehabilitate the U.S.A. when it finally goes broke paying for the Marshall Plan. Margaret had married the great inventor, Ernest Iliff, who recently invented a stepladder without steps so you won't fall off and hurt yourself.

On the way from Spain to Italy we were accompanied by Harold Karlson. Harold had planned on being an explorer, but after he married June Corten, they moved to Italy and he became a guide. Harold took us on a tour of the Italian vineyards. After leaving the vineyards, we journeyed to Naples and the cathedral, where we visited Frank Schreiber, "The Saint of Canal Street," and his trio of Nuns, Shirley Doty, Edna McLean, and Doris Williams.

Travelling from Italy to Russia we were stopped by Emily Miller and her band of woman outlaws who had been terrorizing the men in that region. She engaged in this profession to avenge Crown Point, and decided to let us through cause we were too far from being men. Among the members of her tribe was the infallible man hater, Rosa Young. Arriving in Russia we saw an advertisement of the concert or the great soprano, Jannie Randolph. Jannie was to sing Wisniewski's Sonata with six flats, and a basement. The Wisniewski was the one and only Adeline. After the concert we stopped at Norbert Shroka's, "if you smell it, we sell it" restaurant. We were disappointed to find that Norbhadn't married Lucille Schutz, but we thought he and Mary Mussman made a cute couple. He told us Lucille was now the proud possessor of Ray Genge. As we supped we heard a strange noise (auk-auk) and turned to see the Cox and Patton troupe of trained seals. We were told they had gone into this business after Bob Gross and Jim Sharkey (respectively) had joined the Foreign Legion. Act two was Pat. y Martin, the "Russian Gypsy Rose Lee" who had done quite well since the price of clothing went up.

Entering China from Russia we ran across Kenneth Childress and Nada Taylor, who had married and become missionaries of the Faith. Hiding behind the Great Wall of China, we saw Louie Geib who told us he was exiled from the African throne for having too many white wives. Among them had been June Camus and Ardist Lee. As we entered Nanking we saw Tony Sacco selling Spaghetti to Chinamen. Helping him was his wife and secretary, Margery Saum. Running through the streets we saw Joan Manninger pulling a rickshaw. In the rickshaw we saw Don Spoernor, the Big Shot milkman from the U.S.A. who was not very rich, but had a lot of fun trying to collect his bills.

We left China and headed for Nome, Alaska. Here we saw Bob Carroll selling refrigerators to the Eskimos. Up here you can use them without electricity. Things were really tough. We saw Rita Arends pulling her own dog sled, while the huskies rode. In a mining town we saw Ray Conner, "the Klondike Pete" of 1960 and his wife "Klondike Eva" who was none other than our old classmate, Eva Pittman. He told us he and Eva had started "prospecting" when they were Seniors.

As we came down through Canada we heard rumors of the new player on Toronto Maple Leaves Hockey Team, Arlene Schultz, so, we bought our tickets from Wilma Utermark and went to see the game. Sure enough, it was, and she was being brilliantly coached by "Puck Puss" Woods. Suddenly we heard a sound (bark, bark) and turned to see Wayne Walters and Sophie Yacuk selling hotdogs. They told us that was where their business was going---to the dogs. Leaving the Stadium we were driven to our hotel by the accordion playing cabbie, Dolores Schwietzer.

Early next morning as we were leaving the hotel for San Francisco we noticed the scrub lady looked familiar. Peering through the soap suds we recognized Verna Berg. As we passed one of the rooms we heard sounds of a scuffle. Our curiosity got the best of us and we went in to investigate. It was Howard Weiler and his wife Pat Woods. Pat told us she was perturbed (mad that is) 'cause she had to slave over a hot stove all day, while Howard worked in a nice cool sewer.

Arriving in Frisco we stopped at the Y. M. C. A. and after a refreshing swim in the pool we asked for a towel. We were told that they had all been swiped by the kleptomaniacs Terry Miller and Gene Lehman. After supper we went out on the streets to see the town and were astonished to see a sign which read "if you can walk a tight rope, you can dance, Come to the Paul Parmely, Kenneth Meyers Studio." We decided to drop in on Paul and Kenny, so coming through the skylite we saw the boys and also Norma Schreiber and Edna Reed, their wives, respectively. Leaving the Studio, we met Lyla Martin and Jim Pukey on the street. Jim told us she was his third wife. He had married Lora Widdle in '52; she deserted him in '53, so he married Marylee Quivey who sued for separate maintenance in '55, after which he shackled up with Lyla and moved West.

From Frisco we went to the Sacramento Valley, land of the fruit-growers. Among those picking oranges, most noted were, Elna Rudolph, Lillian Krueger, and Carol Jung. Also, in the middle of the orchard we noticed Lucia Lane, selling orange juice. Next stop--Salt Lake City. As we passed through Death Valley we met our friend Jean Childress. Jean had moved to Death Valley after she became a saleswoman for Twenty Mule Team Borax. In Salt Lake City we ran across (we traveled by car) a wise old hermit. So we backed up to see who it was. Looking behind the beard and wrinkles we came face to face with Joseph Burke. Joe told us that after his wife, Margie Dickerson, deserted him, he put up a tent on the desert and went into hibernation. We heard of a new city nearby, St. Louis, Utah, and went to investigate. We found the Saint to be none other than Louis Camus, who was disgusted with the world and decided to build his own community. The city council consisted of his wife, Arvilla Collins, and the Sheriff, Mary Flack.

From here we took the South Bound Limited (It's limited to going south) to Reno where 50% of the married population are women, (In the day time.) Here we met JoAnn Brownell who told us she was looking for a man, any man, any place, any time, any doesn't live here any more. Helping her with a pick and shovel, we saw Dorothy Brannock; she was trying to dig up a man also.

For the evening's entertainment, we went to Jerry Little's "You Ain't Got a Chance" Gambling Emporium. Standing by the door we saw Helen Hardesty, who had overcome her shyness, acting as bouncer. Butch was now 6' 6" tall and weighed 415 lbs. He told us that he had been married to Jetha Pickens, but she left him for her old occupation in Calumet City.

From Reno we started up the last leg of our journey, New York. Parading up and down the streets was Lora Hatch beating on a bass drum. She told us her barber shop hadn't been doing so well since it became known as a "Clip-Joint", and so she was drumming up a little business.

As a sublime ending to our tale of horror we went to the "Little Church around the Corner" where Mary Hamilton and Aurelia Ebert, the organist, were performing the double wedding of Zern Hayden, Henry Kaszuba, Wes Schliesser, and Ronald Gross. They were doing this as a revenge for girls who dance with each other. The best man, maid of honor and ring boy was none other than Howard Genson. It was a three ring ceremony and they were having a circus.

The notice of Darrel Cavinder and Ronald Kern's weddings will appear in later issues since they went with under classmen!

SENIOR WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1949, being of sound body and doubtful sanity, do hereby will and bequeath the following trash for which we found no use:

To Mr. Brannock--a larger tractor so the one he has won't be so crowded. (The twins are growing up, you know.)

To Miss Harris--a Fred MacMurray book on dancing.

To Mrs. Hetherington--a trip to Mexico to improve her Spanish accent.

To Miss Baughman--One more Bob Carroll and she deserves a pension.

To Mr. DuBois--a little more hair and a laughter for his so-called jokes.

To Miss Cook--another homeroom as good as the one she's had in previous years.

To Mr. Milakovic--an undefeated football team for 1950 plus a new football field.

To Mrs. Vandermark--new drapes for the Home Ec. room windows.

To Mr. Cundiff--a new paint job to hold his Pontiac together.

To Mr. Robb--a Boy!

To Miss Thompson--sleeping pills for future play rehearsals.

To Mr. Marlette--another steering wheel for his dual control car.

To Mr. Jones--a mixed chorus who doesn't complain because they get "B's" in conduct.

To Mr. Sembower--patience and fortitude for the coming senior class.

To Mrs. Sisson--new maps for her U. S. history classes.

To Mr. Ham--one girl to be a sister to his four boys.

To Mrs. Martin--a helper and companion to always help her with her after school duties.

To Mr. Ruley--the best of health for 1950.

To Mr. Tilton--an electric broom to save time sweeping.

To Miss Voltmer--one more desk to hold the over-loads.

To Miss Bennett--roller skates for her library duties.

I, Rita Arends, will my close relationship to Barbara Hardesty to Leland Tanner.

I, John Beckman, do will to Elvis Midkiff my massive growth of whiskers.

I, Verna Berg, will my ability to get along with Miss Wilcox to Carol Hands.

I, Willard Bessette, will to Ronald Bixeman my ability to fascinate women, providing he does better than I did.

I, Arlene Borger, will to Regina Schuring my ability to get in late without my parents knowing it.

I, Dorothy Brannock, will my Government book to anyone who wants it.

I, JoAnn Brownell, will my seat in the bus to Bernedette and Florence Williamson. I hope they slide off as many times as I did.

I, Joe Burke, being of weak mind and puny body will to anyone who wants it my front seat in Government. I will to Bob Blair my ability to stay out of trouble.

I, Merritt Busselberg, will my nickname, "Zeke", to any one who wants it. May they profit by my generosity.

I, June Camus, will to my sister, Mary, who is going to be a Freshman, my ability to chew gum and get away with it.

I, Louis Camus, will my 10% mgr. to whoever will take it and I hope that he will have as much fun as I did; and to my brother my ability to keep away from the girls.

I, Bob Carroll, will to Mrs. Hetherington a nice big paddle to punish those who don't bring their own pencils and paper to class.

I, Darrell Cavinder, will to Bob Duncan my knowledge of women, and to W. T. Jones my hair so he won't become bald--again.

I, Barbara Chappell, do hereby will my tattered roller skates to Ber-nice, "Corruptive Carole," or Joanie. I hope they have as much fun as I have had.

I, Jean Childress, hereby will my ability to get along with boys to Carolyn Purkey, and my bashfulness to my sister, Audrey.

I, Kenny Childress, being of sound insanity and physical dilapidation hereby will my Jimmy Durante nose to Anna Kelsey and my car to Allen Miller and Chuck Surprise. They use it all the time anyway.

I, Arvilla Collins, do hereby will to Joan O'Connell some of my bashfulness. She needs it.

I, Ticker Conner, hereby will and bequeath to Junior boy, Bob Blair, my ability to shoot pool. May he win the money that I lost.

I, June Corten, will to Charlotte McCarty my ability to express myself in foreign language when angry.

I, Marilyn Cox, hereby will and bequeath to Pat Lindquist all my brains and abilities providing that she has the time to try and find them.

I, Margie Dickerson, do hereby will to Janet Worley my bashfulness. She needs it.

I, Dick Dodge, being of sound mind(?) do hereby will all I own and ever hope to own to women.

I, Shirley Doty, will my convenient boarding house (Corten's) in Shelby to Marcia Bolt.

I, Aurelia Ebert, will my sister's gym shoes back to her.

I, Charles Eich, of strong sense and weak mind will my good behavior to Jack Genge that he may make better in his studies than I.

I, Mary Helen Flack, will to Delores Stevenson my ability to stay out of the Lil' Devil. May she be as successful as I have been.

I, Raymond Genge, will to my brother, Jack, all things in my possession which I will not need after I graduate, and also my seat on the bus.

I, Howard Genson, do hereby will and bequeath to Helen Urbanczyk my blue eyes so she can make progress with Dick Norris (Blue eyes are his weakness.)

I, Louis Geib, don't have anything to will.

I, Herbert Gerst, in weak mind and weak body will to Bill Roth my hair. May he make better use of it than I did.

I, Ron Gross, will to Jim Casten my ability to lie and stick to it; to Roland Hoffman my superior height in case he plays basketball.

I, Bob Gross, hereby will and bequeath my false teeth to Gene Rust. I hope they fit.

I, Mary Hamilton, will to Grace Gordon and Mary Worley my ability to keep away from all men and therefore stay out of trouble.

I, Helen Hardesty, will my quietness to June Geib. She needs it.

I, Lora Hatch, will my ability to go steady to my sister Dorothy, and hope she keeps a man as long as I have.

I, Zern Hayden, will to Jerry Snyder my ability to get along with Mr. Cundiff. He needs it.

I, Mary Hepp, will my calmness and even temper to anyone who can find it, I couldn't.

We, Joan Minninger and Mary Hepp, do hereby will to Pat Hudson and Bean-Zeo McCarty our unknown (?) interests in 2 certain football players. Too bad they're graduating, girls.

I, Ernest Iliff, hereby will and bequeath to Bob (Pug) Jackson my nose since his is so flat.

I, Bill Joyce, will to Pat Sharkey, my ability to stay out of trouble in study hall.

I, Carol Jung, will my seat in Government to anyone who wants it and likes Government, I don't.

I, Oley Karlson, being of sound mind and ill thinking, will my ability to drive the Model T to Charlotte McCarty.

I, Henry Kaszuba, will my ability to steal pencils with out being caught to Joe Dewes; and to Dick Burgess to learn football plays and go through the right holes.

I, G.R. Kern, will all that I have and that I ever hope to have to my best friend and chief admirer, G. R. Kern.

I, Lillian Krueger, will to Joan Bixeman my ability to play Speed Ball. "How about a team next year?"

I, Lucia Lane, do hereby bequeath my ability to chew gum and only get caught a few times in four years to anyone who wants it.

I, Margie Leach, will to my cute cousin, Butch Carlson, my ability to get along with Shirley Doty.

I, Ardist Lee, will to my sister, Velda, who will be a Freshman, my ability to get along with Miss Cook like I did.

I, Margaret Lee, will to Dorothy Forburger my chair in Band, may she have as much fun as I did.

I, Gene Lehman, do hereby bequeath to Don Frederick, my ability to go hunting and not get caught.

I, Jerry Little, will Dick Sharkey my ability to get a car, and Joe Dewes my ability to keep warm on the bench.

I, Lyla Martin, will the happy days I have had in high school to anyone who intends to quit.

I, Patty Martin, do hereby will to Jeannette Peterson my ability to remember the name of my date.

I, Carl Matury, will to my brother my ability to get away with murder and to Jane Parmely my seat in Government.

I, Bob McKee, have nothing. I owe much. The rest I leave to charity.

I, Edna McLean, do hereby will my ability to do as well as I did in Mixed Chorus to my sister Ellen.

I, Kenneth Meyers, will to Clarence Dockweiler, my behavior on the bus.

I, Emily Miller, will my ability to go steady to Rosalie Pigg. May she have as much fun and arguments as I have.

I, Terry Miller, will to Bob Amidei, the ability to enjoy himself in high school as I did.

I, Joan Minninger, do hereby will to my cousin, Jeannette Hayden, all of the fun I had in good ole' L.H.S. May she enjoy it as much as I did.

I, Mary Mussman, do hereby will my ability to go steady to Dolores Schweitzer.

I, Dick Norris, will my bashfulness to Jim Rust. He needs it.

I, Helen Patton, in poor health and sane mind do hereby will to Betty and Margie Davis all my extra height.

I, Jetha Pickens, will to Theresa Prada, my curly hair.

I, Tooty Pittman, will my shyness to my sister Frieda--she needs it.

I, Jim Purkey, will to Don Pattee, my ability to go steady with one girl, which will hinder his playing football.

I, Marylee Quivey, will my freckles to anyone who wants them.

I, Jannie Randolph, will to Jimmy Casten and Jim Quivey a chance at my chair in Band. May the best man win and do better than I.

I, Edna Reed, will to Mary Anne Clark my bashfulness and to Ada Jane Dickerson my second period gym class.

I, Elna Rudolph, will my bashfulness toward boys to Jane Parmely, she needs it.

I, Tony Sacco, will my ability to skip school and not get caught to Charlotte McCarty, D'Maris Amsbuechler, and Norma Bahr.

I, Margery Saum, will to Joyce Mink my jewelry and boy-friends. May she better with them than I did.

I, Wes Schissler, will David Runyon my ability to--!!!?

I, Francis Schreiber, do hereby will my broken desk in 4th Period Government to anyone who wants it.

I, Norma Jane Schreiber, will my ambition to Doris Williams.

I, Arlene Schultz, being of questionable mind and unsound judgment hereby will to Alice Engel my height. May it be a benefit to her as it is to me.

I, Lucille Schutz, will my sister, Betty, my seat on the bus.

I, Dolores Schweitzer, do hereby will to my sister, Gretchen, my place in band. May she be able to take all the teasing I did.

I, Pat Searle, will nothing to nobody, because everything I have I need for something.

I, Jim Sharkey, will to Ronnie Woodke, my ability to be on time to Shop class as often as possible.

I, Norb Shroka, will to Bob Eberle, my roller skates so he will not have to walk home from the school bus.

I, Ann Spannan, will my ability to sew (??) to Ada Jane Dickerson.

I, Don Spoerner, will my legs to Pat Kolweic.

I, Nada Taylor, do hereby bequeath to any poor sucker who will have it, my nickname, "Beefy." I hope they don't get teased as I did. And to my little brother, Jackie, I will my good grades in high school--he'll need them.

I, Wilma Utermark, will to Ellen May McLean, the liking for onions that Edna has.

I, Wayne Walters, will to Don Pattee, better luck than I had during my last year of football.

I, Howard Weiler, will to Jim Rust, my ability to keep away from girls.

I, Lora Widdel, do hereby will to Audrey Childress, my ability to get along without boys. She says she needs it. And to Dallas Stillson, my hit-pin ability.

I, Doris Williams, will my love for gym class and gym teachers to Rosalie Pigg.

I, Joe Williams, will my seat in the office, to any little devil that wants it, and my old jalopy to any girl looking for a way home.

I, Adeline Wisniewski, do hereby will my shoes to Shirley Morgan if she promises not to go barefoot on the bus any more.

I, James Wood, will nothing to nobody for the simple reason everything I have I need for something.

I, Patricia Woods, will to my sister Boo-Boo all my ability to concentrate on everything but my studies and still pass.

I, Sophie Yacuk, will Lois Collins, the act of keeping quiet in study hall and chewing gum. And to Rita Bobbin my ability it takes to win the man she's after.

I, Rosa Young, hereby will and bequeath, to the Sophomore girl who kicked me, my bruised and swollen leg.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

When the walls began to tremble and shake on Sept. 7, 1948, we knew it was the new junior class, returning for another year of learning and fun.

The class chose Dick Sharkey as their able leader, Chuck Surprise, to lend a helping hand when needed, and Pat Hudson, to keep the accounts and money of the class. With the aid of their willing sponsors, Miss Baughman, Miss Wilcox, and Mr. Milakovic, and the co-operation of the class members, they were able to accomplish many tasks.

About twenty-five of the junior girls were very active in the different sports the G.A.A. had to offer. Then too, in the field of sports, there were eight boys who received major letters in football and two, their minors. They were as follows: Major--Leonard Brumbaugh, Arne Carlson, Elvis Midkiff, Allen Miller, Don Pattee, Gene Rust, Chuck Surprise and Dick Sharkey; Minor--Joe Dewes and Roland Hoffman. In basketball, Dick Sharkey received his major letter, while Gene Rust came out with a minor.

Ruth Sauer became head drum majorette, with Jeanette Peterson and Lillian Fredregill also majorettes.

The Junior class was also well represented in the cheer-leading group. Three of the six cheerleaders were juniors: Charlotte McCarty, D'Maris Amtsbuechler and Carolyn Kormendy.

Three juniors entered the Oratorical Contest, which is sponsored by the American Legion, and they were Betty Enockson, Pat Hudson, and Dick Childress.

The class gave a delightful comedy for their junior play entitled, "Meet Me in St. Louis." Also the class gave the prom this year, which was enjoyed by all who attended.

This class has been very active in school activities during their third year and they hope to contribute much more during their senior year.

HISTORY OF SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Sophomore class began its year with an enrollment of 119 students. This was enlarged by the arrival of several newcomers who are: Laura Hildebrand, Norma Hildebrand, Carol Landry, Wallace Webb, and Betty Green. Our class sponsors are Mrs. Hetherington, Mr. Ham, Mr. Jones, and Mr. Robb.

As our class officers we elected Janis Buche as President, Charles Faverty as Vice President and Theresa Prada as Secretary-Treasurer.

The fellows took an active part in sports with Don Fredericks receiving a major letter in football and Dick Burgess and Jim Casten receiving their minors. Also John Doolittle, Charles Faverty, Don Fredericks, Dean Ruley, Russell Tuddle, Wallace Webb and George Weddle received minors in basketball.

The sophomore girls were also active in sports for the following girls became members of G.A.A.: Marion Black, Janis Buche, Audrey Childress, Marjorie Engel, June Geib, Jean Gerner, Pat Harper, Pat Johnson, Betty Junglas, Theresa Prada, Carolyn Purkey, Janet Smith, Doris Theis, Diana Van Dyke.

Our class was also well represented in student government by Janet Smith, Dean Ruley, Jim Quivey, Carol Hands, Doris Theis, John Doolittle and Tom Gaither.

We chose as our class colors maroon and white.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

"What do we do next?" was the exclamation of the 116 Freshmen on that day of all days. With the help of every one of our sponsors, Mrs. Vandermark, Mrs. Sisson, Mr. DuBois, and Mr. Sembower, we soon became acquainted with the whole school.

The "Get Acquainted Party" started the year off right. Then there was the Big Sister-Little Sister Party for the Freshman girls at which we began to feel apart of L.H.S.

In October, we elected Carl Nelson to the class head with Dale Jackson, vice president and Anne Copelin, secretary-treasurer as his worthy assistants.

The hayride which the Freshman Class held proved to be fun for everyone who attended.

Different class members joined clubs but those elected to the Sunshine Club are, Gloria Burgess, Keith Doty, Joan Hawkinson, Dale Jackson, Kathleen McCarty, Carl Nelson, Pat Sharkey and Betty Trueblood. Those chosen as Student Government Representatives are Mary Lou Hall, James Coleman, Joyce Trueblood, Richard Peters, and Ethel Enocksen.

The boys in our class have done well in sports. Those who dressed to play on the second basketball team are Duane Ashton, Pat Sharkey, Keith Doty, Arthur Kasperian, and Carl Nelson.

Our class members have taken part in music with a number participating in Glee Club and Junior Band.

It won't be long now and we will be graduated from the "green" stage.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

"In order to bring about a better understanding between students and faculty, we, the Students of Lowell High, do hereby establish this Constitution."

This is the "preamble" to the constitution of our Student Government. Our Constitution was written and passed by the members of Student Council in 1944 and has served us quite suitably ever since. The purpose of the Student Government is to encourage students to use their initiative in developing their ideas into substantial plans for the betterment of their school, its students and their activities..

Our Student Government is patterned after our national government and has a similar working plan. It has a Congress consisting of one House of Representatives and one Senate. The House consists of two members elected from each club. The Senate consists of four members from each class, each home room being represented. The president and vice-president are elected by the student body. The duties of the president are largely executive; he enforces all laws, announces auditorium programs and acts as a medium between students and faculty. The vice-president presides over the Senate and performs the presidents' duties in case of his absence. The Speaker of the House is elected from the House by its' members. Both, the Senate and the House, has a clerk to record the minutes and check the vote.

Before a bill can become a law; it must first be introduced in one of the Houses by one of its' members; second, it must receive a majority vote in each house; third, it must be signed by the president; and fourth, signed by the principal. No bill can go into effect without the Principal's signature.

Student Government serves the school in many ways. It gives students practical training in democracy, it leads and cultivates relationship between students and faculty, it creates greater interest in extra-curricular activities and encourages students to participate in these activities, and it serves as a trial ground for the future. Some of the things Student Government has done this year are as follows: established a Treasury Department, requested Open House to be held, and made stop and caution signs for driveway.

In the past Student Government has proven to be effective and will be more effective in the future when students realize and accept their responsibilities.

THE HISTORY OF THE PRESS CLUB

The Press Club is an organization whose function is to help the journalism class put out larger and better school publications and to stimulate an interest in journalism among underclassmen.

The Press Club chose for their leader for 48 and 49 Darrell Cavinder. In the supporting roles as Vice-President Bob Carroll served, and Secretary-treasurer, Joan Minninger. Ann Spannan and Joe Williams represent us in the House of Representatives.

Our most important activity during the year was our basketball team coached by Darrell Cavinder.

Other important activities were selling candy at football and basket ball games, awarding the honor blankets and assisting in the production of the LOWELLIAN.

BOY'S INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

There are fourteen intramural basketball teams in Lowell High, one for each home room. Every one takes a big interest in these teams. No boys on the Lowell High basketball team are allowed to play. The teams play their games during noon hours starting after the football season and ending before the baseball season.

The teams were divided into two leagues, the red and the black. Cook's home room, "Cookie's Crumbs," were champs in the Red League and Cundiff's home room, "Cundiff's Hot Rods" were champs of the Black League. Both teams held a record of six victories and no defeats. These two league champions played a game to decide the intramural championship and "Cundiff's Hot Rods" emerged, 15-9, as champions in a close and rough battle.

"L" Club

The "L" Club, composed of boys who have won major letters in football, basketball, baseball, or track, elected as their President this year Gene Lehman. His capable assistants were Vice-President, "Doc" Childress, and Secretary-Treasurer, Darrell Cavinder. In order to be represented in the Student Government, they elected Terry Miller and Arne Carlson.

The "L" Club was organized for the purpose of creating greater spirit and deeper interest in athletics, respect for the athletic program and good fellowship. The creed of the "L" Club which forms the "Red Devils" is, Responsibility, Efficiency, Determination, Dependability, Execution, Valor, Initiative, Loyalty and Sportsmanship.

The club during the year awards a trophy or banner to the Intramural Championship, Home Room. Award trophies are given in football for Best Defensive Player, Most Valuable Player, and Honorary Captain. In Basketball, awards are given for Most Valuable Player and Honorary Team Captain in addition to a trophy which goes to the man with the best percentage of free throws.

Our coaches', Mike Milakovic and Keith DuBois planned an Intramural program for the entire year bringing in other sports in addition to basketball. The other sports were bowling, softball, baseball, horseshoe-throwing and touch-football. The home rooms chose a captain and boys eligible for these sports. This was operated on the basic point system, the winner of each game received points. The home room with the most points at the end of the year was awarded a trophy or banner on Honor Day.

Latin Club

The Latin Club got off to a fast and an active start this year. The members have all co-operated splendidly with the leaders, who were:

President.....Pat Hudson
Vice-President.....Mary Schrum
Secretary-Treasurer.....Mary Hepp
Corresponding Secretary.....Audrey Childress
Sponsor.....Mrs. Hetherington

A lot of fun was had by all at the party here at school. The purpose was to initiate the Freshmen into the Club.

The club also had a Christmas program which was given by some Sophomore girls. Also we wrote out a new Constitution, gave a skit during pep session and bought dark shades for Mrs. Hetherington's room.

Movies on "Central America" were shown at the last meeting and enjoyed by all. We hope to have many more interesting meetings, and to try to keep the Latin language the intriguing and important subject that it is.

JOURNALISM CLASS AND PRODUCTION STAFF

Again this year, the students have received their school paper, the Lowellette, for only 25¢ a year and 15¢ a semester.

Also your year book is edited for you by many of the same students who edit your paper. News tips and facts are gathered by the Lowellian staff and members of the Journalism class. These facts and news tips are then sent down to the production staff and typed up. Then they come back and are put on "dummy" pages, which are again sent to the typing room to the vari-typing machine.

Mimeographing is the final process in the production of the paper before its pages are stapled together. The finished Lowellette is distributed to the home rooms by the Circulation Committee.

The Lowellette staff of 48-49 are as follows: first semester; Editor-in-Chief, Nada Taylor; second semester; Editor-in-Chief, June Corten also News Editor for first semester; News Editor, second semester, Shirley Doty; Feature editors, first and second semesters were Marilyn Cox and Darrell Cavinder; Managing editor, Dick Dodge; Club News Editor, first and second semester, Helen Patton and Bob Carroll; Boys' Sports and Girls' Sports reporters for second semester were Ronald Gross and Ann Spannan; Art Editors, Margery Leach and Bob McKee; Page Editors, first semester were; June Corten, Nada Taylor, Ann Spannan, Helen Patton, Rosa Young, Jane Parnely, Lylla Martin, first and second semesters, Pat Martin first, Dick Norris, first and second, Ronald Gross, first and second. The second semester page editors; Mary Hamilton Pat Searle, Bob McKee, Zern Hayden, Henry Kaszuba, Margery Leach, Marilyn Cox, Shirley Doty, and Joe Williams. The advisor of this group is Mr. Sembower.

The production staff for the year were as follows; Arlene Berger, Arvilla Collins, Ada Dickerson, Lillian Fredergill, Helen Hardesty, Lora Hatch, Carol Jung, Anna Kelsey, Joan Larson, Mary Lou Moyer, Diana Poppe, Jannie Randolph, Edna Reed, Ruth Sauer, Dolores Schweitzer, Nada Taylor, Lora Widdel, Barbara Woods and their advisor, Mr. Ham.

The Lowellette this year has been bigger and possibly better than ever before. The job of editing this paper has taken a good deal of time and work and straight thinking from the students. But they enjoy their work and therefore we can safely say we have done a good job.

The production staff for this year also deserves credit for the wonderful job they have done and their fine co-operation with the Journalism Class.

This year the Lowellian Staff consisted of Joan Minninger, Editor-in-Chief; Associate Editors, Ann Spannan and Nada Taylor; Business Manager Dick Dodge and his assistant Mary Hepp took care of the finances and distribution. Jannie Randolph and Patty Martin were the feature editors, with Terry Miller and Gene Lohman as assistants. June Corten, with the capable assistance of Ronnie Gross and Mary Hepp arranged for someone in each class to write the history. Our very efficient club editor, Carl Matury, with the aid of Helen Patton and Rosa Young, gathered information on the clubs. Joe Williams and Ronald Kern reported the sports events. To make our Lowellian beautiful, Marjorie Leach and Bob McKee took care of the art and decoration. The definitely informal poses of our fellow students found on the last pages of our annual were arranged by Bob McKee and Don Spoerner.

SUNSHINE CLUB

Under the leadership of our capable and efficient president, Joan Minninger, the Sunshine Club made plans for an active school year. Kenneth Childress and Mary Schrum have fulfilled the position of Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively. Betty Davis and Ronnie Gross represented the Club in Student Government.

This year the Club welcomed eight new members into its folds from the Freshman Class. With the starting of the school term, each Freshman homeroom elects two students to represent their class during their high school career.

The goal of the Sunshine Club this year has been to pay for a pop corn machine which was purchased during the summer. Although our goal was not reached, we will be able to pay for it with a little more work next year. During the Christmas season, all of the members sold Christmas cards and Christmas wrapping paper. We also sold milk during the months of September and October. The money from the milk and later on from the pop corn machine helped us buy cards, flowers, candy, and baskets of fruit to send to students who are ill or in need.

Our sponsor, Mrs. Hetherington deserves a special tribute. She came to Lowell High in '44 and began her sponsorship of the Sunshine Club that year. Every year since then, she has done a wonderful job of helping students replace gloom and worry with joy and happiness.

SCIENCE CLUB

President.....Gene Lehman
Vice-President.....Kenneth Childress
Secretary-Treasurer.....Patsy Searle

Upon electing Student Government Representatives, JoAnn Brownell and Leonard Brumbaugh, the Science Club was again on another school year.

The Science Club was organized in 1934 and became a member of the Junior Academy of Science in 1935. This membership enables the club members to present at the State Academy of Science, scientific projects that the club has completed during the year. The members, if their projects are deserving, may receive special awards. To the winning student on Honor Day are presented award pins.

Because the club's constitution had become too lax in provisions for membership the members of 1948 decided to revise it, making it read that no student may become a member of the Science Club with out two years of Science. Thus only students truly interested in science will be allowed to become members. According to this system, the approximate amount of members enrolled is 33.

Through various and different channels, the members of '48 earned enough money to buy a new microscope for the school last spring. As for this year, the constitution was to be amended, but was lost before it could be, so had to be entirely re-written.

PUPPET STAGE

ART CLUB

The officers of the Art Club were elected at the first meeting of the school-year. They were: Jeannette Peterson, president; Edna McLean, vice-president; and June Geib, secretary-treasurer.

The student government representatives from the club were Dean Ruley and Carol Hands.

An initiation party was held during the first semester for the enjoyment of old and new members alike. Another club activity during the first semester was a concession stand where eats were sold at the Valpo-Lowell football game.

During the second semester the members worked on new puppets and scenery for the puppet stage.

Exchange of valentines and a short program made up the Valentine's Party.

The members of the art classes entered the poppy poster contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

CONCERT BAND

This year the concert band began its functions by its annual march through Lowell on Labor Day. By well attended rehearsals the band again struck a goal with its backers by well planned performances on the football field. The band's Christmas Concert program consisted of the following:

High School Pride.....	Pinard
Jolly Peter, Intermezzo.....	Kersten
Colosseum, Overture.....	DeLanateo
Enchanted Chimes.....	Barsotti
Jingle Bells.....	Arr. Leonard
Santa Claus Is Coming to Town.....	Arr. Yoder
NC-4 March.....	Bigelow

This year's Spring Concert hopes to be even more enjoyable by the addition of more pieces with the chimes playing a big part.

This year a bass clarinet has been added to the "ever growing" band for added effect to the low note lovers.

February 19, the solo and ensemble contest was held at Hobart. There were 24 entries from Lowell. Of these, three placed first, eight placed second, eleven placed third and six placed fourth. April 2, the band entered the Music Festival at Hebron High School, Hebron Indiana. The Band also made an appearance at the May Commencement.

Along with the Band Boosters Club the members helped sponsor another great concert by the famed Carillo Band from Gary on March 9.

The band officers are:

President.....	Clarence Dodkweiler
Vice-President.....	Marylee Quivey
Secretary-Treasurer.....	Jean Childress
Librarian.....	Mary Hepp
Uniform Captain.....	Barbara Childress

Second Row: Jack Gengo, Gene Hines, Robert Jackson, Mary Collins, Clayton Grossman.

JUNIOR BAND

The Junior Band was organized two years ago under the leadership of Theodore W. Jones, senior band director.

It's purpose was to help students who wanted to enter the concert band understand band co-operation and timing. It teaches these students to play together and harmonize, which makes it easier to work smoothly in the concert band.

They play the simpler marches and pieces and are then better able to understand the more difficult senior band music.

This year, direction of the Junior band was taken over by Mr. Fred Marlette. The group is growing steadily and this year there were approximately 26 members, eight of which went into the Senior band at the beginning of the semester.

CONCERT CHOIR

The Concert Choir of 50 mixed voices this year has progressed well and has added a number of new and modern choral selections to its repertoire. They enjoyed working on such selections as Fred Waring's arrangement of "Comin' Thro the Rye" and Vincent Youman's "Hallelulah" from the musical comedy "Hit the Deck." Several negro spirituals were learned and used in the Spring Concert.

The Christmas Concert was very enjoyable with the rendition of traditional Christmas selections, one being Silent Night sung antiphonally with the Girls Glee Club, who sang from the opposite side of the auditorium.

The Choir helped the Band Booster's Club sponsor a concert by the I.U. Men's Concert Choir in February. Proceeds from this public concert helped finance the L.H.S. musical organizations in the District Festival held in Hebron, April 2. The festival selections were heard along with others, at the annual Spring Concert held in the auditorium on May 4.

The officers for 1948-49 are:
President.....Willard Bessette
Vice President.....Joe Williams
Secretary-Treasurer.....Patty Martin
Librarian.....Ruby Lee
Accompanist.....Patricia Woods

For fellowship and fun the officers planned a hay-ride ending in the Duncan Woods where "hot-dogs," etc. were enjoyed.

FRESHMEN GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Pat Hudson is the able accompanist for the thirty-two Freshmen Girls that make up the Glee Club. They enjoy learning to sing together to increase their chances of becoming regular members of the Concert Choir later on in their career.

They participated in both Christmas and Spring Concerts. For the first time, Mr. Jones entered them along with the Concert Band and Choir in the District Festival held at Hebron, April 2. The Glee Club also appeared on the program during the Commencement Season in the High School Auditorium.

lin, Kathryn Patz, Margaret Clark, and Alma Troyer.

G.A.A.

Under the very capable leadership of Miss Marjorie Harris, our sponsor, and Jo Ann Brownell, our president, the 1949 Girls' Athletic Association of Lowell High School made plans for an active school year. This year's officers were:

President.....Jo Ann Brownell
Vice President.....Joan Minninger
Recording Secretary.....June Corten
Social Secretary.....Barbara Childress
Treasurer.....Pat Hudson

The Girls' Athletic Association was organized to promote interest in girls' sports and to teach all girls better sportsmanship. That this goal is well on the way to being attained is shown by the fact that besides the unusual number of Seniors participating in G.A.A. this year, many underclassmen turned out for the practices which were held at noon.

Some of the main sports in which the girls participated are: Speedball, Hit Pin, Volleyball, Basketball, Softball, and numerous minor sports. Inter-Class Tourneys ended with the Seniors winning most of them.

The point system whereby the girls earn letters and sweaters is as follows: more than four practices for each class are held in each sport; if a girl takes part in at least four of these practices she is given ten points, and is eligible for her class team; if chosen for the team, ten more points are given to her; she may earn more points in various other ways such as hiking, biking, etc.

Formerly, the girls were awarded a letter when they had received 150 points and a sweater for 250, but last year a new system was accepted whereby, beginning with the class of '52, each girl must have 250 points for her letter and 350 points for her sweater.

The Senior members of the G.A.A. were: Lillian Krueger, JoAnn Brownell, Jannie Randolph, Joan Minninger, Dolores Schweitzer, Jean Childress, Lora Widdel, Sophie Yacuk, Rosa Young, Nada Taylor, Mary Hepp, Ann Spannan, June Corten, Marilyn Cox, Shirley Doty, and Marylee Quivey. Most of these girls had earned enough points for their sweaters. All of them have earned enough points for their letters.

Other activities were selling pennants, which boosted the morale of our cheering section at the tourneys; sponsoring a Magician Show which was greatly enjoyed by everyone; the Athletic Dance given in honor of the "L" Club; and finally the last activity of the year, the Mothers Tea. With the election of the officers for 1949-50, the year was brought to a close.

All girls who enter G.A.A. must take the following oath:

I (name) in order to become a member of the G.A.A. do solemnly swear that I will abide by all regulations and laws of the organization. I shall never disgrace myself or our club by showing unsportsmanlike conduct. The G.A.A. Club shall always receive my utmost consideration and co-operation. I shall endeavor to apply it in the pursuit of leisure time and I shall do all in my power to promote the interest of the G.A.A.

The F.F.A. Chapter was active in all District and State contests during the past year. Immediately after the District convention held at Lowell, the Chapter started a paper called the Lowell F.F.A. Tribune, with Joe Dewes as editor, Jim Little assistant editor, Jerry Snyder, head of the production staff, and Don Termunde head of the circulation staff. The purpose of the paper was to inform each boy and his parents of all the activities going on in the Chapter. The first issue was published on March 5, and contained 4 pages.

The Indiana State F.F.A. Convention was held in April, at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Indiana. At this convention our Chapter was represented by Jim Quivey and Joe Dewes as delegates. Paul Parmely and Kenneth Meyers State Farmer Candidates.

Last Fall we set up a point system for all F.F.A. members and recently it was worked out that all F.F.A. members who receive 200 points or more shall receive an old English L with the letters F.F.A. on it and these letters will be worn on the lower right hand side of the jackets. All boys who attain 100 points additional to the first 200 shall receive a chevron to be worn on the left arm.

On March 14, our Chapter held its annual Father and Son Banquet which was served by the Home Ec Club. The guest speaker was Mr. Wiley Stone.

On August the 24, the Lake County Fair started. Nearly all our members exhibited. The more outstanding awards are as follows: Merritt Busselburg had the Grand Champion Steer, Joe Dewes had Reserve Champion Barrow, and Jim Quivey had Reserve Champion ewe in the 4-H division, and Champion ewe in the open class. All total our members won 24 first ribbons, 89 other ribbons and $337.55 in prize money.

On January, the F.F.A. helped sponsor the March of Dimes Drive. This was in co-operation with the Indian Trail Grange. The total amount collected was $1383.31. This was a total everyone was proud of.

HOME EC CLUB

The Home Ec Department, with the addition of several new members, resumed classes once again under the supervision of Mrs. Arline Vandermark.

The Home Ec Club has been in existence since 1940, when it was efficiently organized by Miss Amy Perry. To qualify for membership, a student must maintain a specified grade average, pass every subject taken the previous semester and every member must be taking Home Economics at the time, or have completed the course.

The Home Economics Club has approximately 128 members on its membership roll. This year the students representing the club have chosen Barbara Childress as their president; Marylee Quivey as their vic-president; and Ann Spannan as their secretary-treasure. Mary Mussman and Norma Bahr were chosen to represent the club in the House of Representatives of Student Government.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Vandermark, the Home Ec Club sponsored noon dances; bake sales and a raffle on a portable radio. The club, with their own money, bought a new Bendix washer to lessen the work on towel washing. New curtains and drapery material was also purchased, and as a project, Margie Dickerson and Lillian Krueger redecorated the room, giving it a gay and cheerful appearance.

On March 14, the Home Ec girls cooked and served a banquet for the F.F.A. boys and their parents.

As in other years, the main event was Mother's Tea, given by the combined and rewarded efforts of Home Economics and G.A.A. members. The highlight of the program was the crowning of a chosen senior girl as May Queen. After the program, the mothers got acquainted while having refreshments served them from a beautiful appointed tea table.

All year long, through projects, achievements, effort and rewarded ambition, the Home Ec. classes presented their parents with a very much improved Home Ec. room at Open House which was held on March 18.

Through co-operation and work in the Home Ec Department the girls gain knowledge in sewing; baking; canning; cooking; child care; home decoration and home management; home nursing; consumer education; family relationship; as well as added pointers on the general run of a kitchen, and how to keep it clean, tidy and well organized.

OUR CHEERLEADERS

The six cheerleaders were chosen in September after tryouts before the student body in the school auditorium.

Out of a large number of contestants, four girls were chosen to represent the varsity team, and two were chosen to lead the yells for the second team.

For the varsity, one Senior, Jo Ann Brownell; two Juniors, D'Maris Amsbuechler, and Charlotte McCarty; and one Sophomore, Audrey Childress, were our leaders. Marilyn Cox a Senior, and Carolyn Kormendy, a Junior, represented the second team.

Charlotte and Audrey moved up from being second team cheerleaders last year to the varsity this year. Jo Ann, D'Maris, Marilyn, and Carolyn were all newcomers.

The cheerleaders were largely responsible for the organization of the Pep Club and encouraged participation in the club and its activities. They also assisted in our longer pep sessions.

We can be proud of these girls who have so ably done their part in boosting the morale of both players and spectators at Lowell High's sports events during '48 and '49.

HISTORY OF THE PEP CLUB

The purpose of the Pep Club is to create school spirit, promote sportsmanship, develop interest and backing for our athletic teams, and provide an outlet for the loyalty, pep, and enthusiasm of the Lowell High students.

A newly organized club, promoted by advisor, Miss Harris, and the cheerleaders of '49, the Pep Club was readily accepted, and in its first year of existence has 185 members.

Officers chosen for the 1948-49 school year were: President, Dick Dodge; Vice-President, Merritt Busselberg; Secretary-Treasurer, Jerry Little. Representatives to Student Government were Marilyn Cox and Harold Karlson.

This year's activities included pep meetings, the making of signs and posters, humorous skits and programs given in pep sessions and general boosting of our teams.

Griffith 21 - Lowell 6

Lowell opened it's season against a tough eleven from Griffith. Lowell's only touchdown came in the first minute of play when Dick Sharkey went over from the one-yard line after a Griffith fumble.

Early in the second quarter, Griffith gained ground and pushed over their first touchdown on a sweeping end run. Lowell then opened up a fine passing attack that failed to produce a score, as the half ended with Griffith leading 7-6.

The third quarter was a nip and tuck affair with neither team scoring. Griffith took fire, and scored twice in the last quarter with a running and passing attack that the determined Devils were unable to stop. The game ended with Lowell trying desperately to pass their way to a goal.

Lowell 19 - Crown Point 6

or

Crown Point 6 - Lowell 0

(Take your choice)

Lowell got right down to business by staging a passing attack that really clicked, to advance them deep into C.P. territory where Lehman scored on a double reverse. Later, in the first quater, the Devils cut loose again for another T.D. The score coming on a T. Miller to A. Miller aerial.

Just after the start of the second quarter, C.P. scored, after marching deep into Lowell territory, on a long pass to Hall. Lowell made their last T.D. of the game when T. Miller intercepted a Bulldog pass and galloped 70 yards. The Devils made the extra pint on a pass, as the half ended.

The second half resulted in a dog fight with frequent penalties and no score.

Because of an I.H.S.A.A. rule which is as follows: "If a student attends a high school outside his home school district, and subsequently returns to his home high school, he is ineligible for one calendar year." Lowell had to forfeit the game, 6-0 to Crown Point as they had unknowingly violated this rule.

Lowell 14 - Hobart 0

It was just too much Devil-power, as Lowell rolled over Hobart 14-0. After being held scoreless the first half, the Devils opened up in the third quarter, and passed their way to the Brickies' 2 yard line, where T. Miller plunged over for 6 points. Carlson kicked the extra point.

The Brickies held on again, until Lehman intercepted a pass on the Hobart 10 yard line and carried it across. Carlson's kick for the extra point was good to end the scoring.

Lowell 12 - Merrillville 7

The Devils got up steam quickly and drove through the Pirate defense for two touchdowns in the first half. Lehman collected the first score with a 19 yard run around left end.

The ball had been moved to the 49 mainly on a 47 yard run by Surprise, and a Sharkey-to-Carlson pass that picked up 43 yards. The second score came as a result of a fine running attack that carried the ball to the Pirates 4 yard line, where Surprise plowed over.

Merrillville came back strong in the second half, as Molchan, on a play, spun 50 yards down the sideline to the Devils 4, where they pushed it over in two line plays. Molchan skirted left end for the point after touchdown. Both teams were held back by inspired, hard charging lines the rest of the contest.

Rensselaer 13 - Lowell 0

The Rensselaer Bombers splashed their way to a 13-0 victory over Lowell on the Devils rain-soaked field. The Bombers brought the crowd to its feet when they pulled a reverse on the opening kick-off, and went to Lowell's 41 yard line. Then they sailed down the sea of mud for the first score. The conversion was good making the score 7-0.

The ball slipped back and fourth between the two teams, with neither being able to score until the fourth quarter, when the Bombers blocked a punt that rolled out of bounds on Lowell's 25. They took over, and fought their way over the goal line through a stubborn Lowell defense, that couldn't find anything to dig into but mud. The try for the extra point was no good.

The game ended with Lowell threatening to score on the Rensselaer 6 yard line.

Valparaiso 12 - Lowell 6

Valpo thundered off to a quick start, and the fourth quarter found our Devils behind 12 points, in a game that they were favored to win.

Then Lowell got clicking, and pounded down to score on a pass from Miller to Lehman, midway in the final quarter. Sparked by this score, the Devils kept driving Valpo back, but the gun went off too quick, with Lowell deep in Valpo territory still 6 points behind.

Lowell 20 - Crown Point 0

Crown Point fans saw their Bulldogs humbled 20-0, when our Devils opened their wildest scoring spree of the season, in the last quarter of the pigskin battle at Crown Point.

Both defenses were very effective in the first half, as the ball went back and forth like a seesaw.

In the final minutes of the third quarter, Lowell took fire, and pounded down to the Bulldogs two-yard line but failed to push the ball over in four successive line plays.

However, the Bulldogs couldn't hold Lowell off any longer and the lid was blown off entirely after the Devils returned Ruble's kick from behind the goal line to the Bulldog's 26. Lehman then picked up 48 yards on a reverse, and plowed through tackle for a score, early in the final quarter. Carlson kicked for the extra point but it was wide of the goal post.

When the Bulldogs got the ball, they tried a razzle-dazzle double-lateral-pass play, which Terry Miller intercepted on Crown Point's 45 yard line. The Devils kept right on going and crossed the final stripe a few plays later, the score coming on a line plunge by Surprise. Carlson's kick for the extra point split the uprights.

Later, Carlson intercepted a desperation Bulldog pass on the C.P. 25 yard line, and carried the ball across for a score. Carlson's kick was good again.

The game ended with Crown Point moving down the field on pass plays.

Lowell 18 - East Gary 0

The Red Devils, paced by Lehman's hard running, riddled the East Gary defense, 18-0, for their 5th victory of the year.

Lowell scored in the first quarter, when Kaszuba, after a Devil drive drove through tackle for 4 yards, and 6 points. Carlson's kick was no good.

The high point of the game came when Lehman received East Gary's kickoff at the start of the second half on his own ten, and scampered 70 yards to East Gary's 20; then a few plays later, he scored on an off tackle play. Carlson's kick was blocked.

The final score was set up by Terry Miller's pass interception, in the last quarter, on East Gary's 47, which he carried back to the 44. Here the Devils completed their only pass of the game, Miller-to-Lehman, for 15 yards. Lehman scored a little later on an off tackle plunge, good for 7 yards. Sharkey's kick was into the ground.

West Lafayette 13 - Lowell 0

Invading West Lafayette, the Devils were forced to take the short end of a 13-0 decision, in a contest which started during a miniature cloudburst. Although the downpour subsided in the first quarter, the water-soaked field forced both teams to use a ground attack almost exclusively.

West Side, led by Friend and Lutz, got their fast running attack underway, in spite of the slippery going, and scored in the second quarter, on a 56-yard drive. Friend kicked the extra point.

The only scoring opportunity the Devils had in the first half, came when Lafayette fumbled on the first play following the opening kickoff, and Midkiff recovered on West Side's 20. The Devils failed to gain any yardage after four line plays, and Lafayette took over.

West Side picked up the other T. D. in the third quarter, on a line plunge by Morrison, after a 30-yard run by Friend.

In the final quarter of the water fight, Lowell managed four first downs in a row, for their only sustained drive of the game, starting on their own 30 and bogging down inside West Side's 10.

BASKETBALL

Gary Edison 47 - Lowell 37

Lowell's Red Devils were handed a defeat in their first game of the season by a score of 47-37. Lowell was cold and couldn't get going, while Gary Edison was hot as they probably were all season. Their guards hit a good share of baskets on long shots.

Carroll was high scorer with 12 points.

Lowell 40 - Hobart 38

Lowell edged out a tall Hobart team 40 to 38 in the last few seconds of play when Carlson sank a hook shot from under the basket.

It was a close, well-played game all the way through with both teams playing a tight man-to-man defense. Lehman and Norris led in scoring with 11 and 9 points respectively.

Lowell 51 - Hebron 42

Lowell, controlling most of the rebounds, smashed the Hebron Hawks, Porter County champions, 51-42.

The game showed a lot of team play. Lehman, Gross and Carroll were getting way off their feet, time after time, to bring down rebounds.

Lehman and Carroll led in scoring with 13 points. Gross was close behind with 12 points.

Lowell 42 - Crown Point 30

Playing their smoothest game of the season, Lowell downed their bitter rivals from Crown Point, 42 to 30. Executing their plays perfectly, the hard fighting Devils built up a 22-12 half time lead, and held on to it easily the second half. Norris led in scoring with 17 points.

Lowell 69 - DeMotte 35

Lowell emerged from a 19-19, half time tie to scalp the DeMotte Indians, 69-35. The Devils were missing shots, free throws, and passes, during all of the first half. The second half showed Lowell playing a better type of ball which the little DeMotte team couldn't keep up with. Carroll and Norris were high scorers with 13 points apiece.

Lowell 68 - Morrocco 35

Lowell traveled to Morrocco to hand the Beavers a 68-35 loss.

The Devils opened the scoring on the tip off with a long shot and went on to rack up an easy victory. They were never threatened as our boys outmaneuvered them the entire game. Four of the Devils scored 10 or more points, with Cavinder gathering 14 points to take high scoring honors.

Holiday Tourney

Our Devils beat Hobart, 46 - 39, and got edged out by Griffith, 50-48, in the most thrilling game of the Holiday Tourney, at Crown Point. Lowell, favored to meet Merrillville in the finals, played good ball and thumped Hobart, 45-39, in the first game. Playing Griffith, the Devils missed too many shots and free throws, and lagged 42 points during most of the first 3 periods of the game. Then midway in the final quarter, Lowell, sparked by Kern and the second string, started a rally that the Panthers couldn't stop, but another source, the gun, did, with the Devils one bucket short, 50-48.

Merrillville breezed over Griffith in the finals, to take the trophy and nets home.

Valpo Tourney

Lowell came through to cop the cup at Valpo, New Years Day, in a 4 team tourney. This was the first tourney a Lowell High School Basketball team has won.

The first round winners were Lowell and Valpo., Lowell putting down Hobart for the third time this year by a score of 41-32, and Valpo. edging out Chesterton, 37-36. These two teams faced each other in the finals, with Lowell coming out on top, 35-24. In the consolation game Hobart beat Chesterton, 37-36, for third place. The Devils passing attack and ball handling, all though not as smooth as in other games proved unbeatable.

Dick Sharkey, captain for the night, received the trophy for the Devils.

Lowell 67 - Kouts 38

Lowell, with tricky ball-handling, clever shooting, and good team play routed Kouts 67-38. The Devils built up a ten point lead in the first quarter and kept on adding to it through the whole game. Carroll played a remarkable game in the pivot spot, and chalked up 22 points.

Lowell 46 - East Gary 57

The Devils of East Gary stuck a, 57-46, defeat on our Devils in a rough contest on East Gary's midget floor. Being used to their floor, East Gary outscored Lowell both halves. Their zone defense proved more successful then our man to man and pressing defense. Carroll led in scoring with 13 points.

Lowell 35 - Griffith 43

The Panthers from Griffith, with a last quarter splurge, beat our devils, 43 to 35.

Lowell had a hard time getting through Griffith's defense, which was about the tightest they played against all year. Lehman was high scorer for Lowell with 42 points.

Lowell 34 - Merrillville 38

The Merrillville Pirates, with a tight defense and another champion team, stole a, 38 to 34, victory from Lowell. The Devils, leading by one point at halftime, lost the game in the last quarter, when they were out-scored 10-6.

Bob Carroll collected high point honors for the night with 17 points.

Lowell 57 - Dyer 34

The Devils threw a hatchet in the Indian's basketball machinery and massacred them 57-34. Lowell by way of their smart passing attack and control of the rebounds scored at will and led throughout the whole game. Bessette, playing hard, fouled out in less than a quarter of play and racked up 4 points. Norris and Lehman were top scorers with eleven points each.

Lowell 54 - Griffith 40

The Devils proved themselves rude guests when they beat the Panthers by 14 points.

It was a rough game with the Devils fast breaking at first and then slowing down and playing controll ball. Carroll scored 21 points to pace the Devils attack.

Lowell 28 - Wirt 57

The Wirt troopers rode to a, 57-28, victory over our Devils on Wirt's tiny floor. Lowell's downfall came as a result of numerous bad passes and fumbles, being on edge because of the little floor. The Devils were helpless against Wirt's fast break which scored most of their points. This game was the poorest, both offensively and defensively, Lowell played all year. Carroll led in scoring with 8 points.

Lowell 37 - Portage 36

Lowell squeezed their way to a, 37-36, victory over the Indians from Portage.

The game was a neck and neck contest all the way through, with the Devils on top by one point at the sound of the gun.

Norris was high scorer with 11 points and Lehman had 10.

Lowell 34 - Merrillville 38

Lowell was forced to take a, 38-34, loss by the Merrillville Pirates in the last game of their regular season.

The Devils, were handicapped a lot because of Merrillville's small floor, but they did lead several times during the game.

Lehman dumped in 12 points to lead Lowell scorers.

Sectional

Lowell, after losing Norris, Spoerner, and Cavinder via of the foul route, lost 53-48 to a tall Hammond High team.

The Devils jumped off a lead in the first few minutes of play, but lost it quickly as they had a hard time locating the basket, and went into the fourth quarter lagging by 10 points. Lowell, with Spoerner playing a bang up game on defense and sparking them on offense, and Sharkey playing flawless ball, cut Hammond's lead to five points in the last quarter.

Cavinder, playing one of his best games, paced Lowell scorers with 13 points.

Hammond High went on to take the tourney by beating Griffith, Clark, and Roosevelt.

BASEBALL

Last year Lowell High School played other schools in the sport of baseball for the first time. Coach Robb organized Lowell's team and scheduled 10 games with other schools many of them with large city schools. They won two of these contests and dropped the others. The Red Devils went into all of their games last season greatly handicapped by inexperience. They lost some tough ball games by close scores, and were routed a few times by other large schools with veteran ball clubs. The Red Devils had their touches of brilliance and showed some flashy ball and smooth team play.

The season wasn't too successful in the won and lost column but it was in the experience gained. Many good ball players were discovered and the games were enjoyed by many. Fifteen boys received major awards, and many of these returned for the "49" season, which should be much better in the won and lost column. The "49" schedule was as follows:

April 4,	-	Lew Wallace.....	Here
11,	-	Noll Central.....	There
18,	-	Michigan City.....	Here
19,	-	Crown Point.....	There
22,	-	Wheeler.....	Here
26,	-	Merrillville.....	There
29,	-	East Gary.....	There
May 3,	-	Dyer.....	There
6,	-	Edison.....	Here
9,	-	Michigan City.....	There
10,	-	Griffith.....	Here
12,	-	Noll Central.....	Here
18,	-	Crown Point.....	Here

TRACK

Lowell's 48 Track team had a hard time scheduling meets, because other schools refused to run on the track, which the High School uses in the Town's Oakland Park. Other schools didn't think it was fit to run on.

Coach DuBois was only able to enter his track team in five meets, beating Crown Point in one of these and dropping the rest.

Two boys on the team managed to break school records, Dick Norris in the high hurdles and Dean Childress in the half mile. Darrell Cavinder, a member of the "48" team, held two school records from the year before in the 100 yd. dash. Eight boys received major awards.

SENIOR FAREWELL

Four years ago, we, the Class of '49, opened the door to a new future and a chance to further our education in the classrooms of Lowell High School. Our parents and teachers have worked hard to enable us to grasp the light that comes from learning. We are indeed grateful to our parents, faculty and to everyone who made it possible for us to have a high school education.

Now we must close the book of our high school memories forever, and begin writing in a new one, for it is our turn to start as freshmen again---freshmen in the school of life. This school does not dismiss every summer, nor does it last four years, but for the rest of our lives.

So let us look ahead, and be concerned with the enormous task that awaits before us, and to the faculty, students friends, to our dear old Alma Mater, we say "farewell."

Seniors of '49
